OXFORD MOTORCYCLE CLOTHING

Oxford's 40 years of expertise in the motorcycle industry has finally been applied to its first full range of motorcycle rider wear.

WE INVITE YOU TO TRY ON AND BE DELIGHTED BY OXFORD'S NEW CLOTHING RANGE.

RIDER WEAR APPAREL

GENUINE INNOVATION IN FUNCTIONALITY

Such as inner/outer waterproofing systems, touchscreen-friendly pockets

GENUINE INNOVATION IN SAFETY

External armour pockets, multi-layer construction, technical safety stitch.

GENUINE INNOVATION IN DESIGN

See images Oxford's unique products.

QUALITY MATERIALS

INTERNAL PATTERN DEVELOPMENT

Oxford doesn't rely on someone else's ideas on the right shape for the human form, they use all their own riding experience of track and road to design, test and produce their own patterns for all garment types.

EVERY ELEMENT METICULOUSLY DESIGNED AND QUALITY CONTROLLED

Coordinated liners, material selection, elegant and technically brilliant components (adjusters, straps, zips, poppers) ect.

CURRENT AND FUTURE SAFETY STANDARDS DESIGNED INTO THE PRODUCTS

CE standards are shifting and our garments are designed to be one step ahead at all times.

Having served riders for over 40 years with a huge range of accessories and gained several years of experience designing and sourcing a wide range of clothing from around the world, Oxford took the major step in 2013 of recruiting one of the industry's most respected motorcycle technical apparel designers, Scott McFarlane.

Scott earned his reputation designing technical garments for a number of top names before heading up the design department of a major US brand. In the process, he invented many of the protective mechanisms employed in motorcycle clothing all around the globe which we all take for granted. He now heads up design in Oxford's rapidly expanding clothing and apparel department and remains keen to communicate his passion, spending as much time as possible talking to fellow riders:-

"As a long-time keen amateur racer, I still try to spend as much as possible on track to remind myself of the toughest questions ALL my products need to answer. Fortunately or unfortunately, my riding style usually entails plenty of product testing!

Although it's important that clothing looks the part, most of my work is spent on the elements you never see – internal panelling, stitching methods, new construction techniques, material testing, pattern development, approval standards and so on. Detail is everything; every stitch, every panel, every fold is considered."

Attention to detail and technical integrity are the hallmarks of all Oxford's products, but true genius is found in the invention of ways to offer the highest levels performance in products which the average person can buy.
